TRANSITIONING TO LEADERSHIP: SKILLS FOR EMERGING LEADERS
Delivering Must-Have Skills to Emerging Leaders

PROGRAM OVERVIEW
Transitioning to Leadership examines the complex role of a leader as a person, thought leader, problem solver, change agent, ethical leader and role model. Through interactive, action-oriented team engagement, participants will examine their strengths as individual leaders, develop necessary management communication skills, learn the basics of project management, and finally spend a day pulling all of the pieces together in a simulation exercise designed to put the new competencies into practice.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES
In this program participants will:

- Understand the dynamics and principles of leadership
- Gain insight into their strengths as well as areas to develop in order to move forward
- Participate in active learning sessions to gain practical, applicable skills to apply immediately in the workplace
- Benefit from interaction with a peer network from a broad array of industries
- Strengthen communication skills to effectively represent their organization internally and in the external business community
